A LIFE OF SERVICE TO GOD & HUMANITY

THE HYMNS

ONLY REMEMBERED

1. Fading away like the stars of the morning,
Losing their light in the glorious sun--
Thus would we pass from the earth and its toiling,
Only remembered by what we have done.

Refrain

Only remembered, only remembered,
Only remembered by what we have done;
Thus would we pass from the earth and its toiling,
Only remembered by what we have done.

2. Shall we be miss'd though by others succeeded,
Reaping the fields we in springtime have sown?
No, for the sowers may pass from their labors,
Only remembered by what they have done.

[Refrain]

3. Only the truth that in life we have spoken,
Only the seed that on earth we have sown;
These shall pass onward when we are forgotten,
Fruits of the harvest and what we have done.

[Refrain]

4. Only the truth that in life we have spoken,
Only the seed that on earth we have sown;
These shall pass onward when we are forgotten,
Fruits of the harvest and what we have done.

[Refrain]

5. Oh, when the Saviour shall make up His jewels,
When the bright crowns of rejoicing are won,
Then shall His weary and faithful disciples,
All be remembered by what they have done.

[Refrain]

ABIDE WITH ME

1. Abide with me: fast falls the eventide;
the darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide.
When other helpers fail and comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O abide with me.

2. Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away.
Change and decay in all around I see.
O thou who changest not, abide with me.

3. I need thy presence every passing hour.
What but thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who like thyself my guide and strength can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, O abide with me.

4. I fear no foe with thee at hand to bless, ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness.
Where is death's sting? Where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still, if thou abide with me.

5. Hold thou thy cross before my closing eyes.
Shine through the gloom and point me to the skies.
Heaven's morning breaks and earth's vain shadows flee;
in life, in death, O Lord, abide with me.

T H E H Y M N S

GOD BE WITH YOU TILL WE MEET AGAIN

1. God be with you till we meet again, by His counsels guide, uphold you,
with His sheep securely fold you;
God be with you till we meet again.

Refrain

Till we meet, till we meet,
till we meet at Jesus' feet;
till we meet, till we meet,
God be with you till we meet again.

2. God be with you till we meet again!
'neath His wings securely hide you,
daily manna still provide you;
God be with you till we meet again!

[Refrain]

3. God be with you till we meet again;
when life's perils thick confound you,
put His arms unfailing round you;
God be with you till we meet again.

[Refrain]

4. God be with you till we meet again;
keep love's banner floating o'er you,
smite death's threat'ning wave before you;
God be with you till we meet again.

[Refrain]

IT IS WELL WITH MY SOUL (LYRICS)

1. When peace like a river attendeth my way, when sorrows like sea billows roll;
whatever my lot, thou hast taught me to say,
"It is well, it is well with my soul."

Refrain (may be sung after final stanza only):

It is well with my soul;
it is well, it is well with my soul.

2. Though Satan should buffet, though trials should come,
let this blest assurance control:
that Christ has regarded my helpless estate,
and has shed his own blood for my soul.

Refrain

3. My sin oh, the bliss of this glorious thought!
my sin, not in part, but the whole,
is nailed to the cross, and I bear it no more;
praise the Lord, praise the Lord, O my soul!

Refrain

4. O Lord, haste the day when my faith shall be sight, the clouds be rolled back as a scroll;
the trump shall resound and the Lord shall descend;
even so, it is well with my soul.

Refrain

A LIFE OF SERVICE TO GOD & HUMANITY

B I O G R A P H Y (EARLY LIFE, EDUCATION & FAMILY)

Deacon Miebaka Kenneth Adoki's story began in the town of Okrika, where he was born on November 30, 1954. He spent his foundational years there receiving his early education and building the ambition that would drive his future.

That ambition soon carried him to the bustling city of Lagos, where he gained admission into the prestigious King's College. For Miebaka, King's College was more than a secondary school, it was the birthplace of a lifelong brotherhood. He remained fiercely loyal to the institution and his classmates for the rest of his life, eventually serving with deep passion as the Chairman of the King's College Old Boys Association (KCOBA) Abuja Branch. His fellow Kingsmen revered him as a true pillar of the association.

He continued his academic journey at the University of Lagos. However, his time in Lagos yielded something far greater than just academic and professional growth. It was in this city that his path crossed with a young woman from Anambra named Betty. She quickly became the love of his youth. They were married at the Lagos Marriage Registry, beginning a lifelong partnership that would anchor his family and define his legacy.

Together, Deacon Miebaka and Betty raised four children: Abiye, Sarah, Preye, and Tonye. As a father, his focus was forging their independence and building sharp business acumen. He actively brought them into his offices to intern and collaborate directly on projects. He also recognized early on where the world was heading and brought desktop PCs into the home, encouraging the kids to master computing skills and digital technologies. He made sure to balance all that mental work with physical activity, keeping the household anchored through games of chess, table tennis, and long morning walks. He also bonded deeply over Arsenal matches, a lifelong tradition he shared specifically with Tonye.

He was equally devoted to his siblings, nieces, and nephews. He served as a grounding anchor for the extended family, always showing up physically and emotionally. One of his proudest moments was walking his sister Sokus down the aisle.

Miebaka was spiritually grounded in the Lord, building his foundation within the Redeemed Christian Church of God & ensuring he entrenched this faith into the daily rhythm of his house. Following his early morning walks, he gathered the family for devotion where the children would lead the praise & worship sessions before he then delivered a calm, measured bible teaching to anchor their day.

Deacon Miebaka was an avid member of Olive Tree Parish in Lagos, where he turned his Awolowo road home into a church extension by hosting Wednesday house fellowships and the Eminent Citizens Fellowship. During this period, he was formally ordained as a Deacon at the Redemption Camp in August 2003. When he transitioned to Central Parish in Abuja, he served as Chairman of the Men's Fellowship, among other duties for many years. He later joined The Throne Room, where he focused deeply on being a voice of wisdom and guidance to the congregation. He consistently lived his faith through quiet, practical generosity. He readily shared his resources to uplift the church community, whether he was supporting a newlywed couple starting their lives or simply opening his doors to anyone in need.

FAITH, CAREER & LEGACY

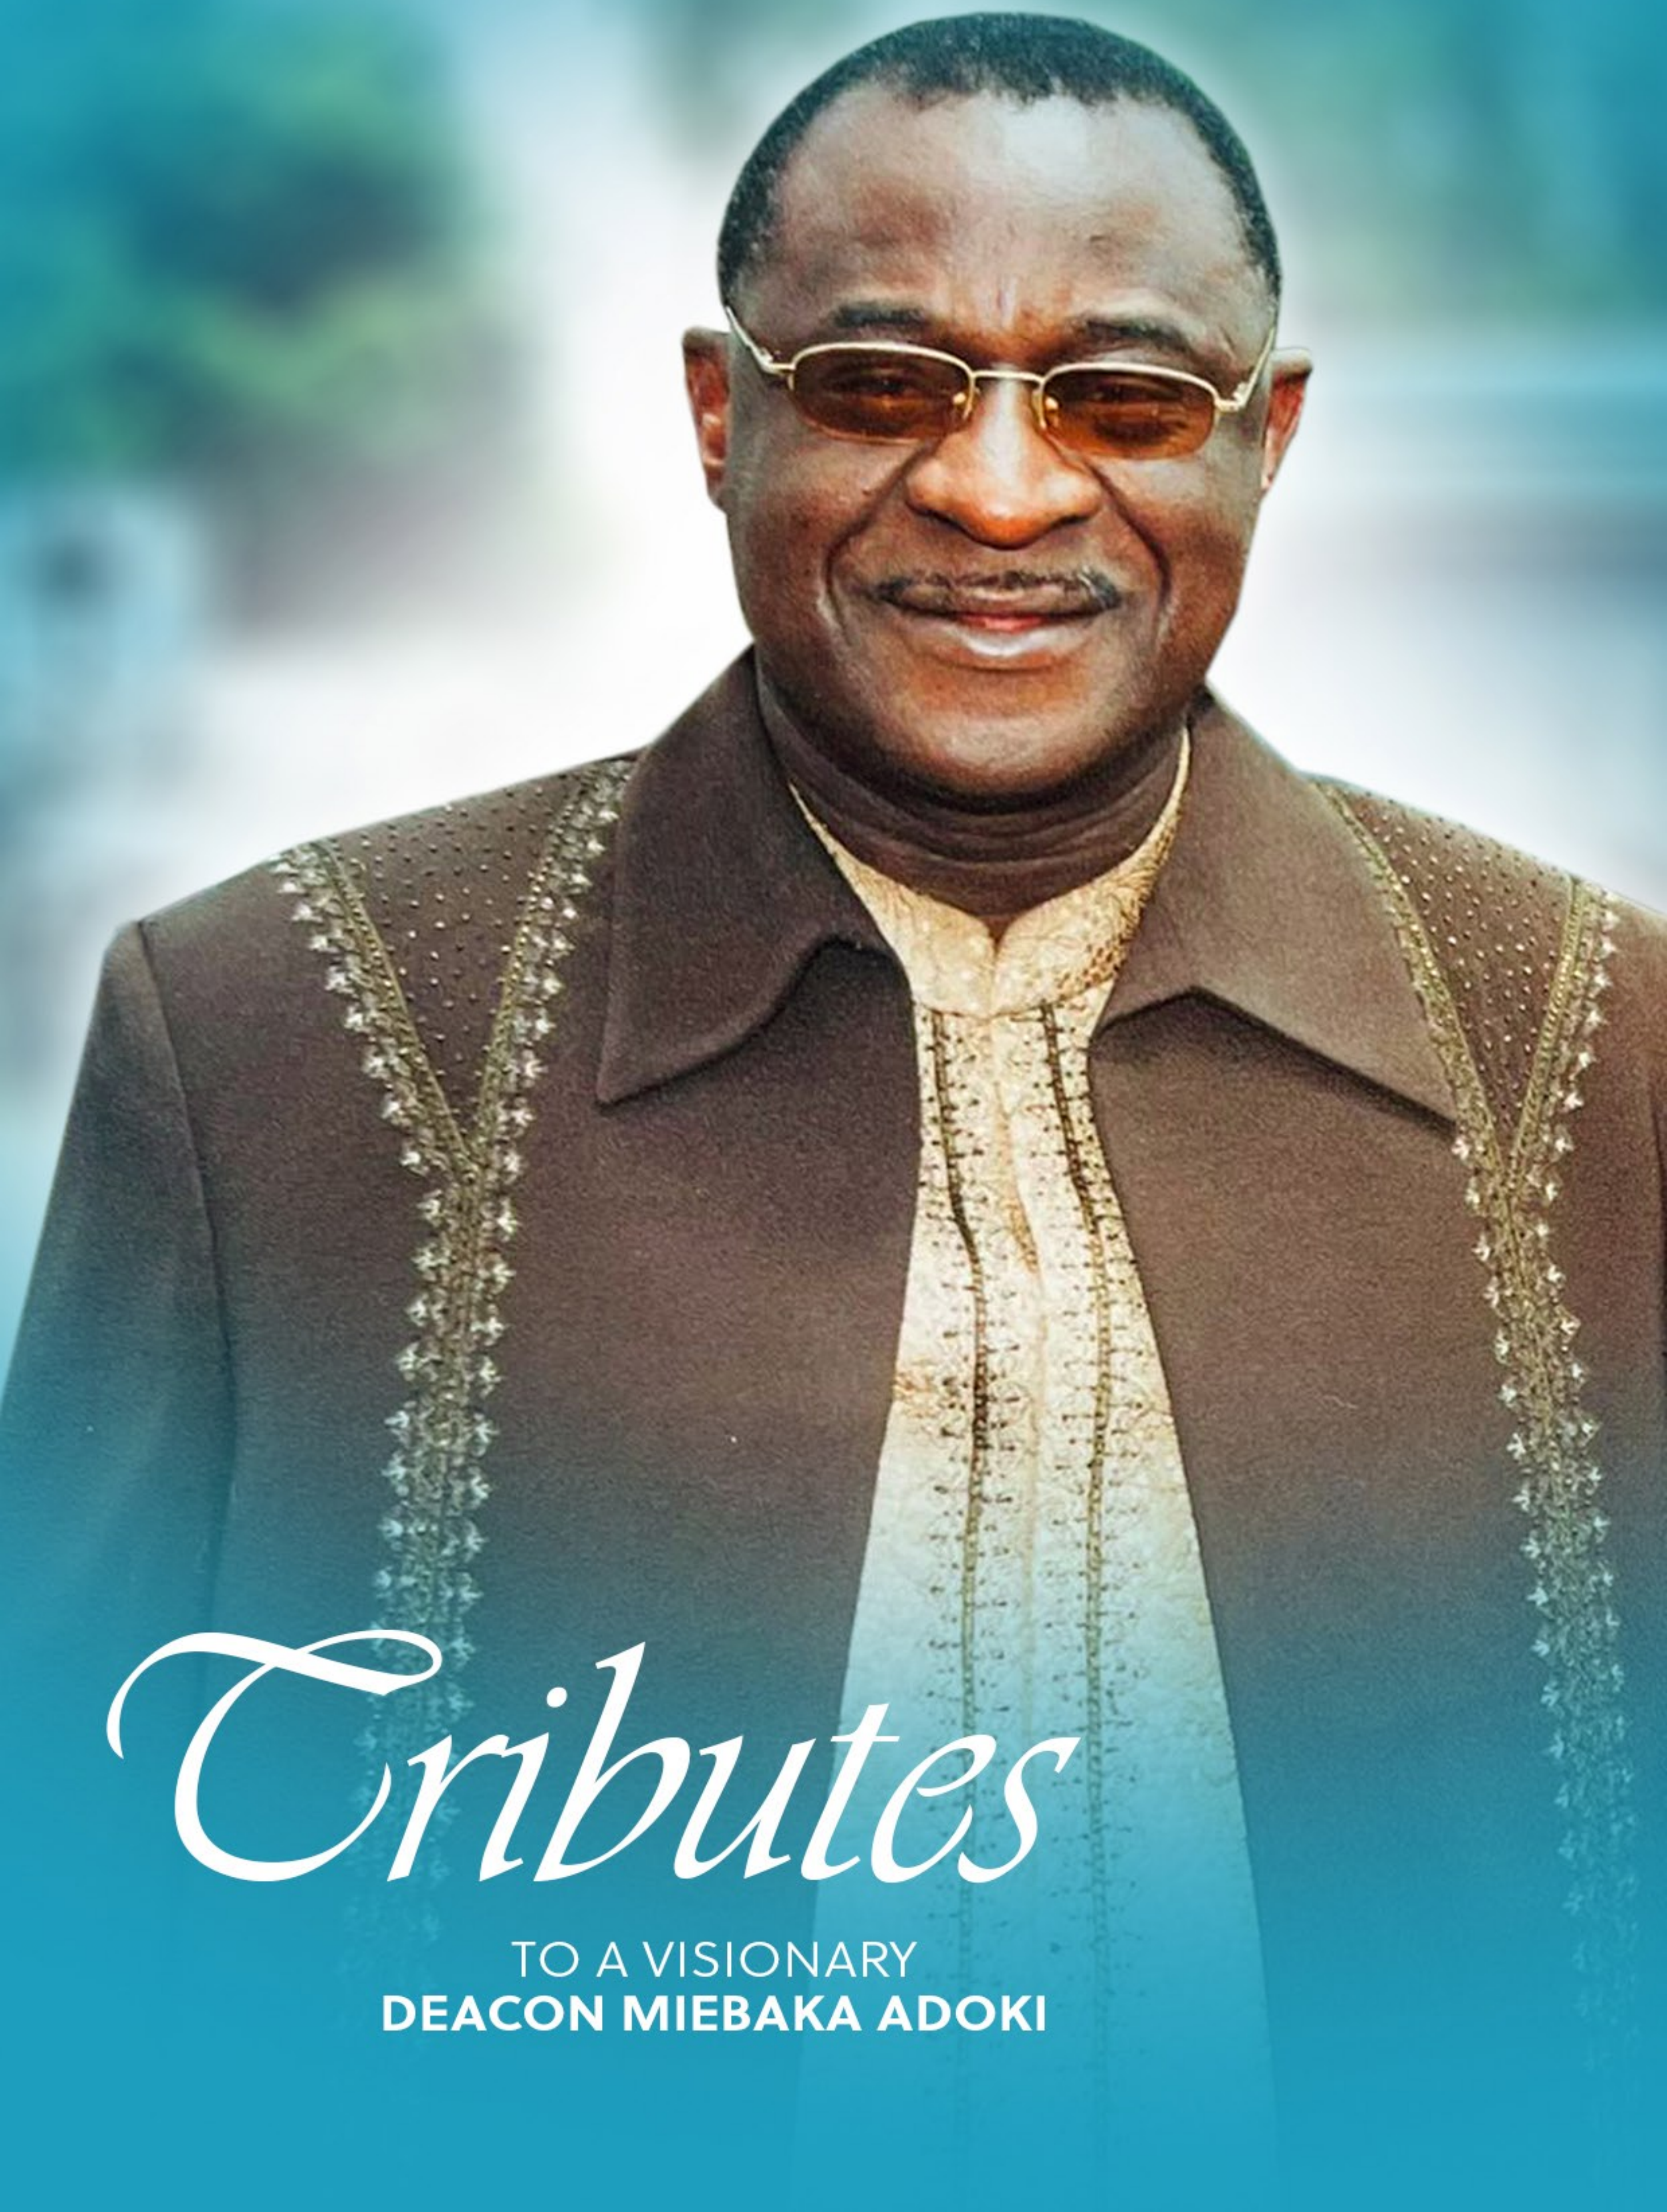

Mr. Kenneth Miebaka Adoki was an accomplished Nigerian entrepreneur, and technology executive whose distinguished career spanned over 40 years. Moving fluidly between the physical and digital landscapes, Mr. Adoki left behind an enduring legacy defined by a lifetime of extensive experience in the infrastructure and construction sectors, alongside pioneering work in information technology and digital advocacy.

Maintaining a lifelong commitment to his alma mater and its influential professional network, Mr. Adoki served as the Chairman of the King's College Old Boys' Association (KCOBA), Abuja Branch, from 2017 to 2019. In this leadership role, he spearheaded regional alumni engagements and supported institutional advancement initiatives for one of Nigeria's most historic educational networks.

His technical footprint extended locally and internationally serving as the Managing Director and Africa representative of MyEvents International Africa, he also formed alliance with and was a member of the All India Council for Robotics & Automation (AICRA), The Information Technology Association of Nigeria (ITAN), The World Information Technology Services Alliance (WITSA) as well as in Nigeria where he was member, Nigeria Diaspora Affiliate Network (NiDAN), the prestigious Eminent Elders Forum (EEF), The Abuja Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI), The National Association of Chambers of Commerce, Industry, Mines and Agriculture (NACCIMA) and many others.

Throughout his life, Mr. Kenneth Miebaka Adoki exemplified the spirit of a true visionary. He refused to be confined to a single industry, instead he was dynamic and always moved with the tide of innovation and change. His unique ability to look across borders, forging strong commercial and technological links between Africa and Asia, established him as a modern global citizen who always kept his roots firmly planted in the advancement of his home country.

Mr. Adoki's legacy lives on through his numerous impact in the corporate frameworks he pioneered, and the generations of professionals he inspired. He will be remembered not only for his brilliance and innovative ideas but as a man of profound integrity, whose lifetime of leadership left an indelible mark on everyone whom he came across in his lifetime.

Tributes

TO A VISIONARY
DEACON MIEBAKA ADOKI

A TRIBUTE TO MY HUSBAND, MY COVERING, MY FRIEND FOR LIFE

They say forty years is a lifetime, but with you, it feels like it was just yesterday. You were my friend from our youthful days, back when we had nothing but big dreams. We built our lives together from the very scratch, brick by brick. Through the lean years and the bountiful ones, we went through thick and thin as an unbreakable team. There was no challenge life threw at us that we did not conquer together.

You were my divine covering and my shield in every storm. You were my prophet—always speaking words of faith, vision, and calm assurance over our home. As a helper and a guide, your wisdom was our compass. To our children, you were an incomparable, loving father who poured his soul into teaching them integrity. You were the ultimate pillar of our family, and your legacy is forever secure.

The shock of your sudden departure has shaken me to my very core. The silence you left behind is deafening. How do I learn to walk without my senior brother who has held my hand for forty years? My heart is heavy, but I hold tightly to the beautiful memories of the life we built.

Though my heart is broken and the days ahead look heavy, I anchor my soul in God's divine promise. I take solace knowing that though your earthly labors are over, your beautiful works live on in our children and in me, and you are resting peacefully in the presence of our Lord and Master. Until we meet again MK, your memory remains my comfort, as I put my heart in God's word in Revelations 14:13 "Then I heard a voice from heaven saying to me, 'Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.' 'Yes,' says the Spirit, 'that they may rest from their labors, and their works follow them.'"

Sleep on MK, my dearest friend and companion. You fought a good fight and you kept the faith. Rest in the bosom of God Almighty until we meet to part no more.

Adieu, my love MK. Goodnight, my prophet.

ABIYE ADOKI (SON)

Dad was a devoted lover of God whose life reflected kindness, wisdom, and grace. He was a man full of life, vision, and ideas. A passionate sports enthusiast and proud Arsenal supporter, he enjoyed every good game with great enthusiasm. He had a deep appreciation for art and creativity and carried himself with confidence, dignity, and style. Always impeccably dressed, he spoke with wisdom, calmness, and class.

A joyful giver, Dad found genuine happiness in helping others. He was an innovator who was never afraid to turn ideas into reality. He had a remarkable gift for bringing people together, negotiating with wisdom, and making everyone around him feel valued and respected.

Rest well, Dad.

SARAH ADOKI (DAUGHTER)

My dad wasn't the loudest person in the room. Neither am I. That came through in the time we spent together, not in big conversations. I was a curious kid, always pulling things apart to see how they worked. He brought a computer into our house early, before most people had one, and let me explore it freely, spending hours learning about graphics design and Microsoft tools and many others, building on that inquisitive nature.

He'd take me to computer expos sometimes. I'd be completely overwhelmed, in the best way, surrounded by screens and stalls and people demoing things I didn't fully understand yet. We'd walk through it all together, taking it in at our own pace. Looking back, that early exposure made me someone who's comfortable poking around, trying things, and figuring stuff out as I go.

Chess was the same. Just the two of us, a board between us, hours at a time. He never let me win easily. You had to earn it. He taught me to slow down and take things in, so I can make every move count.

Rest well Dad

PREYE ADOKI (SON)

Trying to express what you were to all of us, especially in words, would be a disservice to you. I'm grateful for the years I got to spend trying to learn from you, or even just figure out who you really were. You were a man of many talents, of various innovations, and I still wonder how you managed all the different parts and made everything move in synchrony.

You had a way of bringing others to follow you willingly, and I still admire that. Growing up, you had the daddest of jokes which would always bring the whole room to tears, currently working on that too. Whenever I needed help, you would take some time, but you would always be there.

It was sweet and sour, but you did the best you could to get me to where I needed to be.

You would always worry if I was making the right decisions. Hopefully, as you rest now, I will still feel your guiding hand.

I wouldn't replace you for anything.

We miss you every day Dad.

TONYE ADOKI (SON)

My Lovely Father

Bilingual and bionic in mind,

Always told me the time is now to use AI.

You were a chairman with a style unmatched,

And when it came to watching Arsenal,

Your passion was unfathomable.

You worked tirelessly; even if you

Lost a tire, nothing could distract my father.

Chairman, you were loved by your friends,

Very wise and very dear.

I hope to see you one day when God opens the gate.

I love you more than gold or precious diamonds,

My dear dad. Rest easy in Zion, the heavenly kingdom.

To My Younger Brother

Your call to glory came as a shock to everyone. Words fail me as I express my pain and the vacuum you left in the family. Through it all, we thank God for the legacy you left behind. Rest in God's Perfect Peace. –Mrs Otems Odogwu, Nee (Adoki)

To A Wonderful Brother

My dear brother though your time on earth has ended, we take comfort knowing you are resting in the arms of our Lord. Your life was a gift, a reflection of God's love. The shock and emptiness feels unbearable, yet the memories we share become a source of comfort.

Our heart still aches with sadness and many tears still flow. What it meant to lose you no one would ever know. My dear brother with love so true you gave strength in all that you do in the family. You made burden feel less tough. You are a beacon of shining light. Although you are no longer here your legacy continues to live in the hearts of those who loved you.

Your dear sister. Pst Mrs Sotari Ijeh (Nee) Adoki

Tribute to my Elder brother.

Elder Miebaka Adoki is a distinguished entrepreneur known for his many achievements, innovations and inspiration to others. But to me, he is a comrade, a business partner, and my big brother.

Brother, your sudden departure has left a footprint on my soul that I cannot erase.

Our memories has been solely pleasant and never bitter. I recall your numerous visits to PH, were we talked about business ideas and mini full litigations methods and strategies till the early hours of the day. Amongst others.

Surely, I will miss your captivating laughter, your creativity and indeed your plentiful jokes. You came, saw, and did it, your way.

Until, we see in many thousand years. May the Lord send HIS better angels to usher you to your eternal rest. Rest on Brother. Rest on.

From Your younger brother. Fubara.

I called him Uncle Miebaka. But in every true sense, he was far more than an uncle to me. He was a father figure, a mentor, and a deeply compassionate man whose life touched so many people. For a man of his rare qualities, words fail to do justice to the beautiful legacy he's bequeathed.

He was generous to a fault, always willing to bend over backwards to help anyone in need. Gentle in speech and kind in heart, he carried himself with humility, wisdom, and genuine, godly love. He was so accommodating in nature that anyone around him easily felt welcomed and valued.

Uncle Miebaka was versatile, full of ideas, highly creative, and remarkably technologically advanced for his time. He constantly sought ways to improve lives and contribute meaningfully to society.

Above all, he was deeply God-fearing and God-loving. He devoted himself wholeheartedly to godly causes and lived a life of unwavering faith, service, and sacrifice. His fatherly wings were always stretched wide open, ready to guide, support, and uplift others without hesitation.

It is very difficult for me to believe that uncle Miebaka is gone forever. May the impact of his life will have an endure.

Boma Bolarinwa(Née Abaku)

Uncle Miebaka was not just my uncle. He was my guy. There is a kind of relationship that defies easy description, somewhere between family and friendship, between elder and equal. That is what we had. We would sit together and the conversation would just flow. Politics. Business. Life. The state of Nigeria. The future. The past. Everything was fair game, and nothing was off limits. Those sessions were some of the most stimulating conversations I have had with anyone, because Uncle Miebaka was not a man who thought small. He was an ideas man and I mean that in the fullest possible sense.

He always had a new vision, a new venture, a new plan that he was turning over in his mind. And because I am wired the same way, I loved every minute of it. I would bounce ideas off him and he would fire back without hesitation. We sharpened each other.

But let me tell you about the flag. One day, Uncle Miebaka looked at me with full seriousness and told me he wanted to build the largest flag in Africa. I remember my exact reaction ⁺Hia. ⁺ Uncle, all those millions, for a flag?! He didn't flinch. Didn't laugh it off. He meant it completely. And that was him. Bold. Audacious. Unbothered by what anyone thought was possible or reasonable.

Then there was the day he told me he was taking Nigeria to court. Not a local authority. ⁺Nigeria. ⁺ The whole country. I shouted — ⁺Haaa! Uncle, the whole Nigeria?! ⁺ He looked at me calmly and said, ⁺"Of course." ⁺ And somehow, knowing him, I did not doubt for a second that he had thought it through.

That was Miebaka Adoki. A man who did not know the word retreat. A man who faced every challenge with his chest out and his head high. A tough man, in the best possible way.

I am going to miss those conversations more than I can say. I am going to miss being challenged by someone who dreamed bigger than most people dare to. I am going to miss the friend inside the uncle. But I carry him forward. Every time I sit down to build something, every time I refuse to back down from a challenge, every time I entertain an idea that sounds just a little bit crazy. Uncle Miebaka will be in that room with me.

Fly high, Uncle. Somewhere up there, I am sure you are already drawing up plans. Rest in the bosom of the Lord.

Your Nephew, Lawrence B. Tamunokiri

Rest in peace Uncle. You were a great man and a true servant of God. We all love you and will miss you dearly. Thanks for being a light in our lives. Your memory will forever be blessed. Sleep well good Sir. Floreat – Chi Odogwu

Thank you Mr. Adoki for your love, trust, friendship, and even partnership, beyond the normal business transaction of tenancy agreements that we had.

I was opportuned to find in you a pleasant elder, and you opened your hand and much more, your heart to me and Christ family ministry.

You were good to me and CFM because you believed in the cause of Christ which is for me a true testimony of your deep conviction and reverence for God.

You were truly a good man who was good to me and CFM, thanks for the time I was privileged to have shared and enjoyed in your space.

I know you are resting in the Lord. Good night to a man of dreams, visions, and heart.

Rev. E. Tokula

Lead Pastor CFC Abuja .

In him, the nation found a distinguished statesman; communities found a devoted philanthropist; industries found a true trailblazer; and I found a father, mentor, confidant, and family. A visionary of uncommon wisdom and innovative thought, he carried a compassionate heart that inspired transformation far beyond his immediate sphere of influence. His life remains a profound testament to leadership, generosity, integrity, and purposeful impact.

We pray that God grants the family fortitude to bear this irreparable loss, fills their hearts with divine comfort, and keeps them under His unfailing love and protection. May they find rest in His promise of peace..In JESUS AMEN
– Chris Obi

The man who gave my hand in marriage, my father , brother. At this time when we are becoming close as siblings death snatched you away from us, may your soul find the eternal rest and peace you deserve.

Younger sister,

Mrs Beregha Hannah.

May your gentle soul rest in perfect peace, Sir.

Today, I remember and honour a remarkable man, Mr. Adoki — my former boss, my mentor, and the person I will always fondly and profoundly call “My First MBA Teacher.”

You taught me business at a time when I had little understanding of how the real world of enterprise, leadership, decision-making and recognize opportunities. You did not only teach me through words; you taught me through your example, your discipline, your wisdom, and the confidence you placed in me when I had no clue where to begin.

You saw potential in me before I fully saw it in myself. You encouraged me, guided me, corrected me, and opened my mind to the practical lessons of business and life. Many of the things I understand today about resilience, strategy, responsibility and leadership were first planted through the lessons I learnt from you.

You were more than a boss. You were a teacher, a mentor, a guide, and a source of strength. Your kindness, wisdom and generosity of spirit left a deep and lasting impact on me and on many others who had the privilege of knowing and working with you.

It is difficult to say goodbye, but I remain deeply grateful for the privilege of learning from you and walking part of my journey under your guidance. Thank you for the lessons, the encouragement, the belief, and the legacy you left behind.

Rest well, Sir. You will be deeply missed, but your memory, your impact and your teachings will continue to live on in our hearts.

May your soul rest in perfect peace.

Dr. Oyesola Oworu

It is so sad u died suddenly chairman,u affected and impacted my life that day,u were a man of very rare faith,deep intelligence, wisdom , always planing ahead,u hated poverty.i learnt a lot working with u and doing alot with u.chairman,u didn't tell us u we're leaving so soon - Unwana Ukim

Tribute to My Beloved Brother

Miebaka, my beloved brother. Papa's look-alike, Papa's pride. It is a deep sorrow that you left us so suddenly, at the very time when we as a family had finally come together playing together, laughing together, living in harmony. You were the glamour of the family, the one who lit up every room and made every gathering feel complete.

You have been a father to my children when their own father left them early in life. Without hesitation, without complaint, you stepped in with love and strength. You were always there for me whenever I needed you a shoulder, a voice, a steady hand.

The compliments and the warmth you showed your dear sisters that Mothering Sunday will ring in my heart forever. Such a simple gesture, yet it meant the whole world to me. That is the kind of man you were thoughtful, loving, and generous with your affection.

We appreciate you more than words can carry. You will forever be remembered, not just for what you did, but for who you were.

Rest now, dear brother. Rest in the bosom of the Lord. – Your Sister, Ibifi Okpokiri

With a heavy heart. I pay tribute to my brother inlaw. I extend my respect and prayers in his memory. May God's comfort and peace surround the family, and may His love strengthen the family in days ahead.

Rest in peace. – Nworji Anya

A EULOGY FOR MIEBAKA Kenneth ADOKI

I had the privilege of reading Prof. Manny Aniebonam's tribute to Kenneth (Alaṣọ to me), my brother and friend from the Nigerians in Diaspora Alumni Network, NIDAN, and I'm on fours with every word of it.

Truly, Kenneth did not stand on the sidelines. He stepped forward, he served, and he built. When others hesitated, he acted. When uncertainty arose, he spoke with clarity and calm. Most admirably, you always knew where he stood. No obfuscation with Alaṣọ.

Within NIDAN, where we met in 2010, Kenneth was a pillar of strength and dependability. But his impact reached far beyond our organisation, into three areas critical to Nigeria's future.

First, he helped lay the foundations of the Nigeria Diaspora Investment Summit (NDIS), and continued to support it, even when he'd moved on to other projects. He saw early that the diaspora was more than an audience; it was a source of capital, skills and networks. He helped to give it structure, credibility and a real seat at the table of national development.

Second, he was passionate about sustainable mass housing. He believed development meant nothing if ordinary Nigerians couldn't live in decent, affordable homes. He pushed for practical, scalable, environmentally sound models and kept asking how we move from pilot projects to housing at scale.

Third, he championed an online tech business chamber for intra-African trade. He believed Africa's prosperity lay in connecting our entrepreneurs directly, using technology to make trade faster and fairer. His last years were spent laying the groundwork for that vision: an African Digital Chamber of Commerce.

And then there was Arsenal. Alaṣọ was a passionate Gooner who never let me forget it. As a Tottenham supporter, I got the full "noisy neighbour" treatment from him. Yet, it was all in good faith: banter, rivalry, and brotherhood. Sadly, he didn't live to see Arsenal's resurgence crowned with the Premier League title, on the same night Tottenham survived relegation by the faintest of margins. He would have enjoyed that symmetry.

Beyond all this, Kenneth was a man of integrity. His word held weight. His sincerity earned trust. He was also a devoted Christian leader and family man who carried his responsibilities with pride and love.

We mourn his loss deeply. Yet we are grateful for the example he gave us: service without applause, loyalty without condition, work done with honour.

May God Almighty grant his soul eternal rest in peace and comfort his family and friends. In Jesus's name. Amen. –Kachi Okezie, Esq

It is with a heavy heart and a profound sense of loss that we mourn the sudden passing of our dear colleague and leader, Kenneth Miebeka Adoki.

As one of the visionary founders of NIDAN, Kenneth was instrumental in building the community we cherish today. Kenneth was the very life and soul of our daily interactions on our NIDAN WhatsApp platform.

He was vibrant, always engaging, and fiercely dedicated to keeping our platform connected and alive. The platform truly will never be the same without his presence, his voice, and his unyielding energy.

Kenneth was a man of deep faith, defined by his committed service to God and humanity. If we, as his colleagues, feel this space so deeply, we can only imagine the weight of grief borne by his loved ones. Our hearts break for his family, standing with his dear wife and children in this dark hour.

We pray that God grants his family the fortitude to bear this immense loss, and that Kenneth finds eternal rest in the bosom of the Lord.

Adieu, Kenneth. You will be sorely missed.

From Chiaka, one of your colleagues at NIDAN, Abuja. – Chiaka Ben-Obi

In Loving Memory of Deacon Miebaka Kenneth Adoki –

When we first met Deacon Miebaka Kenneth Adoki and his family in Lagos in 1998, his name immediately caught my attention. It brought back memories of a dear secondary school friend, who shared the same name and sadly passed away while we were in Class Three.

The uniqueness of that name was fitting for Deacon Adoki. It was impossible to meet him without being inspired by his excellence, integrity, and devotion to his beloved wife and their lovely children.

His faith was the foundation of his life. Also evident was his commitment to his work and business endeavours, which he pursued with diligence and purpose. Perhaps, the most memorable among his many admirable qualities was his warm and welcoming smile. It was through this genuine warmth that a lasting bond developed between our families over the years.

On a few occasions, we shared conversations about developments in our home state, Rivers, and the broader challenges facing Nigeria. He cared deeply about the next generation and was genuinely invested in the peace and progress of our nation.

His sudden departure silenced a voice and laughter that brought joy and comfort to so many. To Mrs. Adoki, and Abiye, Siye, Tonye, and Preye, words cannot fully express the sorrow that accompanies this huge loss. May the faith that sustained him throughout his life strengthen and comfort you in this difficult time. And may the countless memories of his love, kindness, generosity, and laughter continue to sustain and inspire you.

Dein na mu.

Kio and Nyingibo Amieyeofori.

Tribute to Miebaka Adoki

Today, I pay tribute to a remarkable individual whose leadership, guidance, and kindness left a lasting impact on the lives of many. It is with great sadness that we mourn the passing of Miebaka Adoki, a person whose influence extended far beyond the workplace.

Throughout my time working under your leadership, I witnessed firsthand dedication, professionalism, and unwavering commitment to excellence. You led not only with knowledge and experience but also with compassion, integrity, and respect for others. Your ability to inspire confidence and bring out the best in people made you an exceptional leader and mentor.

More than an employer, you were someone who genuinely cared about the growth and well-being of those around you. You encouraged hard work, nurtured talent, and created opportunities for others to succeed. Many careers were shaped by your guidance, and countless lives were touched by your generosity and support.

Your legacy will not be measured solely by professional achievements but by the positive difference you made in the lives of employees, colleagues, friends, and family members. The values you demonstrated—honesty, dedication, humility, and kindness—will continue to inspire those who had the privilege of knowing you.

As we remember and honour your life, we also celebrate the remarkable contributions you made to others. Your memory will live on through the lessons you taught, the opportunities you created, and the countless lives you enriched.

May you rest in eternal peace, and may your family and loved ones find comfort in knowing that your life was one of purpose, impact, and lasting significance.

Gone from our sight, but never from our hearts. - CHELSEY RUBY

Today, as we honor the life and memory of our dear friend and brother Kenneth Miebaka Adoki, I am reminded of the timeless words of a great American President Theodore Roosevelt in his famous "Man in the Arena" speech:

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat."

Kenneth was truly a man in the arena.

He was not one who stood on the sidelines of life offering empty opinions or waiting for others to carry the burden. He stepped forward. He served. He sacrificed. He organized. He led. And he did so with dignity, humility, courage, and honor. Within our beloved organization, The Nigerians In Diaspora Alumni Network (NIDAN), Kenneth distinguished himself as a pillar of strength and dependability. He was the kind of man every organization prays for — committed without seeking applause, loyal without conditions, and hardworking without complaint. Whenever there was work of charity to be done, Kenneth was there. Whenever unity was needed, Kenneth was there. Whenever wisdom, calmness, and integrity were required, Kenneth was there...selfless, and always cheerful.

He was a great organizer whose dedication transformed ideas into action and gatherings into movements. He understood people. He knew how to bring individuals together around a common purpose. His leadership was never loud or self-serving; it was steady, mature, and deeply respected.

But beyond his service and accomplishments, Kenneth was, above all, an upright and honest man.

In a world where integrity is increasingly rare, Kenneth stood firm in his principles. His word meant something. His character inspired trust. His sincerity touched lives. He carried himself with decency and honor, leaving behind a reputation that many aspire to but few truly attain.

Kenneth was also a devoted family man.

He loved his family deeply and carried his responsibilities with pride and devotion. The measure of a man is often found not only in public achievements but in the quiet faithfulness he shows at home — and Kenneth excelled in both. He gave love, guidance, protection, and dignity to those closest to him. His family was his pride, his joy, and his sacred responsibility.

As friends, colleagues, and brothers, we mourn because we have lost someone truly special. His absence leaves a void that words alone cannot fill. Yet even in our sorrow, we are grateful — grateful that our paths crossed with his, grateful that we experienced his friendship, and grateful that his life gave us an example worth following.

A man of faith, Kenneth fought the good fight of life honorably. He did not seek perfection, but he pursued purpose. He was present in the arena of service, friendship, family, and community. And though life's journey has called him from this earthly stage, his impact will continue to echo in the hearts of all who knew him.

To his beloved family, we extend our deepest condolences and prayers. Please know that Kenneth's life mattered. His legacy endures. His good works speak for him. And his memory will forever remain alive among us.

May we honor him not merely with words today, but by living with the same integrity, loyalty, courage, and spirit of service that defined his life. Farewell, dear brother.

You ran your race with dignity. You stood in the arena with courage. You served with honor. And you will never be forgotten.

May his gentle soul Rest in Perfect Peace.

TRIBUTE TO OUR PATRIARCH (DEACON) MEIBAKA KENNETH ADOKI

We received the news of the passing on to glory of our patriarch Deacon Meibaka Kenneth Adoki on the early hours of May 14 2026 with great shock and pains. With deep sorrow and heartfelt sympathy, our family joins the entire family and loved ones in mourning the passing of a father, brother and a beloved friend.

Words often fail in moments like this, yet we cannot allow this occasion to pass without expressing our profound gratitude and honour for the life he lived. As a family, we deeply appreciate the love and support he has shown us in many ways. His kindness will remain engraved in our hearts, and his memory will continue to inspire us.

As we grieve his departure, we pray that the God of all comfort will strengthen and uphold the entire family during this painful season.

May the Lord grant you peace that surpasses understanding, courage for each passing day, and the fortitude to bear this, and the assurance that a life well lived leaves behind a legacy that death itself cannot silence. Continue to Rest in the Lord.

From Pastor Gerald and Pst (Mrs) Miriam Ukeni Assistant pastors in charge of RCCG Ebonyi Province 2 CSR Abakaliki and family.

The news of the passing of Mr. Meibaka Adoki came as a profound shock and a deeply heartbreaking loss. Today, I join countless others whose lives were touched by his kindness, generosity, and unwavering commitment to helping people succeed.

When I arrived in Malaysia in 2021, I was searching for employment and seeking opportunities to establish myself professionally. During that challenging period, I reached out to Mr. Adoki regarding a position in a company where he served as a Director. Without hesitation, he requested my CV and immediately referred it to his business partner. Shortly thereafter, I was invited for an interview and subsequently offered employment.

That single act of kindness became a turning point in my professional journey. It provided me with a soft landing in Malaysia and opened doors that shaped my career in ways I could never have imagined. Beyond that opportunity, I had the privilege of working alongside him on various trade and investment delegations between Nigeria and Malaysia, where I witnessed firsthand his passion for building bridges, fostering partnerships, and creating opportunities for others.

Mr. Adoki was more than a businessman and leader; he was a connector of people, ideas, opportunities, and relationships. He possessed a rare ability to bring individuals together, inspire collaboration, and support those around him without seeking recognition. His influence extended far beyond boardrooms and business engagements, it was reflected in the countless lives he uplifted through his generosity and mentorship.

Personally, I will also miss his daily devotional messages that faithfully appeared on my WhatsApp every morning at 7:00 a.m. without fail. It became a comforting routine and a reflection of his steadfast faith and discipline. Mr. Adoki was always awake to answer "Here" whenever duty, service, or faith called upon him.

As we mourn his departure, we also celebrate a life of purpose, service, and impact. Though he may no longer be with us physically, his legacy will continue to live on through the many people he helped, the relationships he nurtured, and the opportunities he created.

May Almighty God grant him eternal rest and grant strength, comfort, and peace to his family, friends, colleagues, and all who mourn this great loss.

Rest in perfect peace, Mr. Meibaka Adoki.

Honor to Mr. Meibaka Adoki.

The news of your passing was a sad one. I remember your calm and gentle demeanour. I remember how you and Aunty were so good and kind to my husband. You opened your doors to him and took him as a member of your family.

In the midst of the sadness, my joy is that you knew God and therefore I am assured that we will meet at Jesus feet.

Rest on in God's bosom sir and may God comfort the family, business associates, colleagues and friends you left behind in Jesus name, amen. - Osebi Ufot

Deeply saddened by the sudden loss of our beloved boss and mentor. You were a pillar of strength, always leading with empathy, wisdom, and a dedication that inspired us all. Thank you for believing in us and for building a legacy that will never be forgotten. Rest peacefully, sir. You will be dearly missed - Eluwa Ngozi

When I joined RCCG, Olive Tree Parish, then at CIAO Restaurant, Awolowo Road, Ikoyi, the family that I met that helped me stabilize my then unstable life was Mr & Mrs Adoki.

From serving together in the Choir with Sister Betty to becoming Brother and Sister and then friends, family friends and friends with the children, friendship with Mr Adoki as he was fondly called then, was gradual. He hosted House Fellowship in his house - 17 Awolowo Road, Men's Fellowship, Eminent Citizens Fellowship amongst several others.

When I got married, The Adoki's supported us all round. He made available for our use his then brand new Hyundai SUV.

His 'bafana bafana' - Diepreye and Tonye were in the bridal train and all the family were in attendance.

He later moved to Ademola Street still in South West Ikoyi before moving to Abuja. Here, I remember his love for hot Big Treat Bread as he always bought it!

When in 2018, I had to shift base to Abuja, it was his house I landed. Since Sister Betty was out of station, we were three in the house most times. He made me settle fast into Abuja and introduced me to The Throne Room Worship experience that I could not separate myself from. We had several fun experiences together.

God Himself might have brought our two families together because my Daughter shares the same birthday with Aunty Betty January 19 and my son Misses that of Uncle Adoki by just two days - November 28!

Deacon Miebaka Kenneth Adoki was a gentleman per excellence!

He was God loving and caring to the people God brought his way.

May the memory of Mr Adoki be Blessed forever. Amen. - idongesit ufot

Tribute to An Icon

I'm writing with tears roll over eyes your demise gives me a big shock, I never believe you are gone it really an heart broken for me your loyalty and encourage towards your patronage and promoting my business for over 15 years as help me alot this gesture will be highly missed, you are such a good man which I will never regret knowing you, I pray that May the Lord accept your soul. RIP sir

It's me your boy "El-Kana" like you always call me. Abdulkadir Abdulrasheed ---Kana

My name is Cynthia ngozi nwachukwu, Am the chief Marketer of (NDCC) Nigeria Digital Chambers of Commerce, MrAdoki Chairman as we all called him was my boss for 2years and plus, I have known him as a very discipline father he doesn't take no as an answer. We where together on Wednesday 13th of May, we even say good night sir , we resume work on Monday morning and find out he died on Thursday morning , the shock is still in my body up till now but who am I to question God all I can say is may his gentle soul rest in perfect peace Amen. Adiu Chairman

Oh! Death where is thy sting. You were such a calm, meek and loving person to us your wife's friends and sisters. I knew you years ago before the marriage proper to my friend and sister Udena. Udena loved you so much just like you did to her. I thank God for everything about you, especially for a life well lived in Christ. I know you have been received into God's Kingdom as a Saint. Rest well in the bosom of the Lord. - Nkiru Arah

Farewell to a truly great man whose life was a blessing to everyone around him. Your kindness, wisdom, strength, and impact will never be forgotten. Though you may no longer be with us physically, your legacy and the memories you created will continue to live in our hearts forever.

You touched many lives with your generosity and inspired countless people through your words and actions. Heaven has gained a noble soul.

Rest peacefully, Our DADDY You will be deeply missed, lovingly remembered, and forever honored. - Oniga John

I still remember the first time I met you, Mr. Adoki. It was at the Chinese company where you bought a machine, and that moment brought us together. You looked at me with such surprise.

Later, I became part of your family. You changed my name from Sola to Kayode a new name and a new beginning for me. Thank you for the tremendous impact you made in my life.

May your soul rest in perfect peace. - Kayode Sola

I met you about July 2025 at the Portharcourt Airport on the way to Abuja. We struck a conversation and it was easy to decipher that you were a happy person who took life easy. We were to meet later on in Abuja but life came in between. Only today, I was shocked to see your obituary on Tams status that you are his dad and you are now late. It shouldn't have been now. The world needs more of you. I know you will be sorely missed. I pray the heavens receive you into eternal life. Rest in Peace Mr Adoki. Olumide Olujinmi

Elder Mebiaka Kenneth Adoki.

The transition of Elder Adoki has left all with a sense of shock, in addition to pondering the fragility of human existence and life.

Adoki was larger than life and measurably legendary in his interaction with not only his alumni, the King's College Old Boys' Association (KCOBA) family, but also with his business associates and all whose paths crossed his.

He was far my senior in the good old school, as I did not meet him in King's College, Lagos. He had left many years before I envisaged to walk through the gates of the school. But our maiden meeting brought to the fore his vintage and avuncular disposition, a feat that endeared him to all old boys, young and old.

The doors to his office were open ajar to all.

His office was a veritable platform to conceive ideas and implement them for the greater image and development of the nation.

He was patriotic as he was philanthropic.

He had listening ears to anyone who shared their concerns and worries.

He was assiduous and self-effacing, even so to members of his staff.

I bear testimony to the aforementioned as he, without being prompted, offered me a lofty position in his organisation.

He pursued with vigour tasks he deemed fit to burnish the image of Nigeria as well as advance the cause of humanity.

OB Adoki demonstrated indomitable courage in the actualisation of any projects that he was involved in.

He'll be sorely missed by all- his family, the church and well-wishers.

May the Good Lord grant his gentle soul eternal rest in His bosom. Amen

Ambassador Martins Cobham.

KING'S COLLEGE OLD BOYS ASSOCIATION
(KCOBA), ABUJA BRANCH

14th May 2026

Tribute to Mr. Kenneth Adoki Miebaka
Former Chairman, KCOBA Abuja Branch

The King's College Old Boys Association, Abuja Branch, joins family, friends, classmates, and the wider KCOBA community in honouring the life and legacy of our beloved Kingsman and former Branch Chairman, Mr. Kenneth Adoki Miebaka.

Mr. Adoki was more than a member of the Association. He was a pillar of the Abuja Branch and a respected figure within the larger King's College Old Boys family. His presence, wisdom, generosity, and unwavering commitment to the ideals of brotherhood, service, and excellence left a lasting mark on all who had the privilege of knowing him.

As a former Chairman of the Abuja Branch, he served with distinction, resourcefulness, and deep passion. He gave his time, strength, counsel, and heart to the growth of the Branch, always carrying himself with dignity, kindness, and a genuine love for the Association. His leadership helped strengthen the bonds among Kingsmen in Abuja and contributed meaningfully to the spirit and progress of KCOBA.

Mr. Adoki will be remembered for his calm guidance, generous spirit, commitment to service, and deep loyalty to King's College and the values it represents. He was a dependable brother, a builder of relationships, and a man whose impact will continue to live on in the memories of those he inspired.

Though his passing leaves a painful void, we take comfort in the legacy he leaves behind. His life reminds us that true service is not only measured by titles held, but by the lives touched, the institutions strengthened, and the love shared along the way.

On behalf of the King's College Old Boys Association, Abuja Branch, we celebrate his life, honour his memory, and pray that Almighty God grants his family, friends, classmates, and all Kingsmen the strength and comfort to bear this loss.

May the gentle soul of our dear Kingsman, Mr. Kenneth Adoki Miebaka, rest in perfect peace.

TRIBUTE TO DEACON KENNETH MIEBAKA ADOKI

It is with profound respect and gratitude that I pay tribute to Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki, a man whose life and work have left an indelible mark on all who have had the privilege of knowing and working with him.

Throughout our business relationship, Deacon Kenneth consistently distinguished himself as a leader of exceptional character, unwavering integrity, and remarkable professionalism. His ability to combine strategic thinking with genuine concern for people made him not only an outstanding business associate but also a trusted friend and mentor.

His approach to business was founded on honesty, transparency, and accountability—values that earned him the respect and confidence of colleagues, clients, and partners alike.

His leadership style was both inspiring and empowering. Rather than seeking personal recognition, he invested in the growth and success of those around him. He listened attentively, encouraged innovation, and created an environment where individuals felt valued and motivated to perform at their best. Through his mentorship and example, many people developed greater confidence and achieved professional growth.

Beyond his professional accomplishments, Deacon Kenneth embodied the principles of service and humility. Despite his achievements, he remained approachable, compassionate, and deeply committed to helping others. His faith-informed values were evident in the way he treated people with dignity, respect, and genuine kindness.

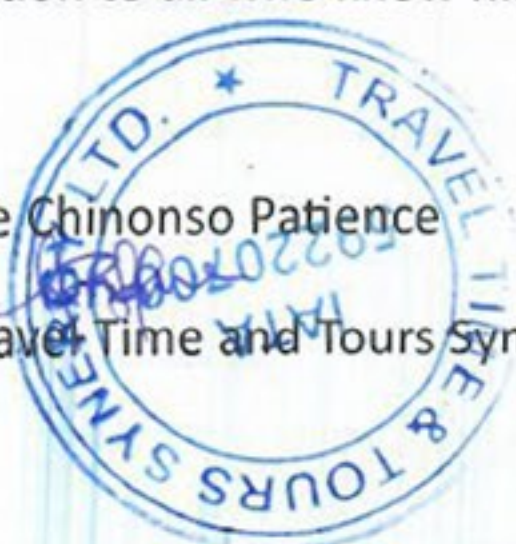

The impact of Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki extends far beyond measurable business success. He has demonstrated that true leadership is not merely about authority or achievement but about character, service, and the positive difference one makes in the lives of others.

As I reflect on our business relationship, I remain deeply grateful for the opportunity to have worked alongside such an exceptional individual. His example continues to inspire me, and I am confident that his contributions and legacy will be remembered for many years to come.

May his life, work, and unwavering commitment to excellence continue to serve as a source of inspiration to all who know him.

TRIBUTE TO LATE DEACON MIEBAKA KENNETH ADOKI

It is with deep sorrow that I write to express my heartfelt condolences on the home call of our beloved brother and close associate in the ORASOYE ORAWARI HOUSE, Late Deacon Miebaka Kenneth Adoki. He was an elder and a member of the Executive Committee of the ORASOYE ORAWARI HOUSE of Edereme Biri, Koniju Kingdom, Okrika.

His life was a blessing to all who knew him, and his absence leaves a void that words can scarcely fill.

In September 2021, I received a call from our late Chief (Dr.) Nemi Wisdom Adoki of blessed memory, who was then in Chicago, USA, for medical treatment. He directed that his absence should not create a vacuum in the administration of the ORASOYE ORAWARI HOUSE. He charged Miebaka, Christy Alamina, and my humble self with the responsibility of coordinating the affairs of the House. He encouraged us to reach out to our brothers and sisters both at home and in the diaspora so that we could work together for the progress of the House.

This marked the beginning of my close working relationship with Late Miebaka Adoki. From this collaboration emerged the Elites of Adoki Group, a body that came together to raise funds and provide various food items to members of the House during the COVID-19 restriction period.

Unfortunately, we lost our Chief, Dr. Nemi Wisdom Adoki, later in 2021, and a new phase of service began. A Burial Committee was formed, and Miebaka and I worked closely together to coordinate activities and ensure the successful burial of our late Chief.

Despite residing in Abuja, Miebaka remained actively involved in matters concerning the House. We communicated frequently and worked together whenever the need arose.

Miebaka was a responsible brother, a committed financial member of the House, a proud member of the Chief Herbert I. Adoki family, a devoted husband, and a loving father.

Miebaka's legacy of love, kindness, and faith will continue to live on in our hearts. As declared in 2 Timothy 4:7-8:

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love His appearing."

His journey was marked by resilience, devotion, and unwavering faith. We celebrate a life lived with dignity and purpose. Those of us who regularly read his daily devotionals will remember titles such as "Man the Gate," "The Throne," and "The Crown." The last song he shared was the popular highlife song, "So Ala Teme Me," which reminds us that God created both the rich and the poor. These messages reflected the depth of his Christian convictions and his understanding of life's eternal values.

Mie, my brother, you left us without a word. Yet we find comfort and encouragement in the Word of God, which says:

"The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come." — Isaiah 57:1.

May the peace of God guard our hearts and minds. May we continue to comfort one another with the love that binds us together as a family, remembering the assurance that our beloved brother has entered into eternal peace, where one day we shall be reunited if we remain steadfast in the faith.

CONDOLENCE MESSAGE FROM ORASOYE ORAWARI
WAR CANOE HOUSE

With our hearts bowed in sorrow yet anchored in faith, we the ORASOYE ORAWARI HOUSE mourn the passing of our beloved son, brother and father, LATE DEACON MIEBAKA KENNETH ADOKI.

He was an Elder of the ORASOYE ORAWARI HOUSE of Edereme-biri in Koni-Ju-Kingdom of Okrika.

Though this loss has left an unfillable void, we submit to the will of God Almighty.

Miebaka was a gift to us as a House and to the immediate family of late CHIEF HERBERT I. ADOKI.

His life was a testimony of hard work and humility, his vacuum is deeply felt but the foundation he laid will stand for generations to come. We miss you and your spirit-filled wake up calls every morning and Christian moral teaching on the ORASOYE WhatsApp platform.

You left suddenly without a word, but we have our hopes in the word of God that says "The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked commeth in his stead" Proverbs 11vs 8.

Miebaka, rest in peace of the Lord, till we see again on the resurrection morning.

SPECIAL TRIBUTE FROM EMINENT ELDERS FORUM - DEACON KENNETH MIEBAKA ADOKI (1954 - 2026)

With gratitude to God Almighty for a life well spent, Eminent Elders Forum (EEF), mourns the excruciating sudden demise of one of our own, Distinguished Eminent Elder, Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki (30 November 1954 - 14 May 2026).

Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki was a very active founding member of Eminent Elders Forum's Board of Trustees.

Eminent Elder Kenneth Miebaka Adoki was a philosophical writer, whose writings were always enlightening, entertaining and thought provoking.

He posted a mind-boggling article on the state of our country Nigeria, on our EEF's platform at about 11:15pm, May 13, 2026. Surprisingly, a few hours later, we received the sad news of his sudden demise. What a painful loss! He was indeed very active to the end.

Elder Kenneth Miebaka Adoki sacrificially served humanity meritoriously in various and varied capacity without blemish. A highly outstanding and cerebral entrepreneur, Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki, was a very versatile, creative, innovative and highly motivational Chairman/Director of many business concerns that cuts across human capital development, healthcare, critical infrastructures, technology innovation, artificial intelligence, properties development and management, consultancy services, international events planning and management, research and development among several others.

Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki was a renowned philanthropist, football enthusiast, role model and a highly committed Christian, whose love for God and humanity is unquantifiable.

Eminent Elder Kenneth Miebaka Adoki was a very effective former Abuja Chapter President of his prestigious alma mater's (Kings College Lagos) old boys' association among so many others.

An exemplary family man, Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki, was happily married to his adorable wife, Mrs Betty U Adoki and they both have four lovely children.

May the gentle soul of our very beloved Deacon Kenneth Miebaka Adoki continually find eternal peace in God's bosom.

May God Almighty grant his lovely wife, Mrs Betty U Adoki, the children, family, friends and associates the fortitude to bear the irreparable loss, in the Mighty Name of Jesus Christ!
